

Amy, Richie, Welcome to Georgia. This is Agent Thomson and I am here to inform you that while you were in the air the situation has grown complicated. The good news, we have almost solved the final puzzle. all we need is what's on that flash drive. The bad news, the agent we told you about has disappeared.

We are sending you to his last known location. Be warned, we aren't the only government looking into this. Enemy agents are in play. Watch your back you two, and good luck. We will send an eye in the sky if we can.
